Bills are reduced in solar itiative

COUNCIL house tenants in Cannock Chase are seeing their electricity bills fall by more than £300 under a new solar panels pilot scheme.
Thirty-nine council-owned bungalows in Norton Canes had panels installed last year as part of the project by Cannock Chase Council. Initial assessments after the first few months indicate huge savings are indicate huge savings are being made by some proper-

The Fern and Fallow pub Stafford Road is up for sale

PATRONS of a popular Cannock pub are worried about its future after it was put up for sale by Marston's Brewery.

The Fern and Fallow, formerly known as the LA Rock Cafe, on Stafford Road, was put up for sale on Christie and Co's website for $235,000 by the brewery before Christmas.

Lee Corbett, who took over the running of the pub a few weeks ago, said: "We knew the pub was for sale when we took it on.

"We don't really know much at this time about who wants to buy it but we will keep going with gigs and our usual events until a sale goes ahead."

The pub's future had seemed secured under its previous occupants, despite a chequered past, establishing itself as one of Cannock's premier live usic venues. Pub users have now started a Face-like Horizon pull out, it is usually down to poor sales. People don't want to spend £3 on a pint when they can go to a supermarket and get it cheaper. "It is really disappointing the club is closing. It's a sad sign of the times. People need to realise if they don't use it they will lose it."

A Royal British Legion spokesman said it was exploring other options to lease the building.

Concerns for pitch as game is played

PLAYERS are cutting up rough over the state of a football pitch after a match was allowed to go ahead fol-lowing last week's thaw.

Only one of 31 scheduled games in the Cannock Chase League went ahead last week as grounds were deemed unplayable.
But the clash, between Athletico Bridge and The Hen House at Heath Hayes playing fields off Wimblebury Road, has now left the pitch in an even poorer state.
Athletico player Tim Elsmore believes all games on council-owned pitches should have been called off to protect the grounds.

Guidelines

He said: "The game has completely ruined the pitch, which will now cost money to put right."
Council spokesman Kate McBey, said: "During bad weather it is the responsibility of the home team to call ity of the home team to call

"In this situation any decision is down to the referee whose guidelines allow matches to be played as long as the nitch could." as long as the pitch condi-tions are safe enough.

"The home team have agreed not to play their match this weekend to help the pitch recover."

Quiz buff faces clock in latest TV game show

WELL-known Cannock comedian is to make his 28th TV quiz show appearance after successfully winn-ing his way on to Face the Clock.

Funny man David St John, aged 64, has been performing since the age of 10 and continues to delight crowds across the country.

He has competed on a different programme nearly every year for more than 30 years and is believed to be one of the UK's most prolific quiz contest-of the UR's most profile quiz contest-ants.

His latest appearance on Channel 4's new quiz programme Face the Clock, hosted by impressionist Rory Bremner, saw him make the long journey to the banks of Loch Lomond.

He said: "The studio was on an industrial estate north of Glasgow. It was freezing and the crew kept handing out coats and hot water bottles during the break but at least it kept my brain fresh."

SO THAT'S it. In clear, concise language that noone could possibly misunderstand, the die is cast. The British people will be given a simple, straightforward choice on our future membership of the EU. It is in or out. Or possibly innish or outish. Sort of. A bit. Depending . . .

From the 1930s onwards our view of the war as the needless, thoughtless slaughter of a generation at the hands of incompetent generals has been shaped by war poets, pacifists and the bleak, mocking satire of Oh, What a Lovely Warl and Blackadder.

taken on by the force in three years. Recruitment will start in April and will be carried out in two phases. It comes as plans were also unveiled for a one per cent wage increase from September.

Details have been put forward in the 2013/14 draft forward in the 2013/14 draft budget presented to the police and crime panel by Staffordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

Freeze

He told the panel it was important for the force to take on "new blood" following the recruitment freeze over the past three years. Mr Ellis said he had identified six areas where savings could be made to pay for the recruitment of 28 new officers one of which was officers, one of which was the sale of Staffordshire Police's former headquarters in Cannock Road, Stafford.

He added: "I think there are very significant untapped opportunities to reduce costs."

More tests on pool – but still no open date

CONTRACTORS are carrying out the final tests on the pool complex at Chase Leisure Centre ahead of its reopening following a six-month delay.

following a six-month delay.

However, there is still no date on when the public will finally be able to make use of the facility.

The three pools at the Stafford Road venue have been repaired and filled with water although the flooring on the surrounding walkways has still to be completed.

Workmen are carrying out the critical test of heating the pool – the point at which the project was halted last July, when hairline cracks appeared in the tiles. the tiles. Council bosses reveal it will still take weeks to gently heat the water up to its 29C operating temperature. It currently stands at 21C.

Project

Cannock Chase Council's corporate director Tony McGovern and head of commissioning Mike Edmonds, who are overseeing the project for the council, said the cause of the problem was believed to have been new expansion joints fitted between the pools to allow room for slight movement when the baths were heated. Mr McGovern said: "It appears that

Hedgehogs in decline

HEDGEHOGS are at risk of becoming a threatened species, with numbers declining by up to 40 per cent in the past decade.

Joan Lockley, who runs West Midlands Hedgehog Sanctuary from her home in CheslyhnHay, is urging people to be more aware of the creatures and their natural habitats. Surveys carried out in the past 10 years show the number of hedgehogs in some places has fallen by 37 per cent.

But despite the falling numbers, Mrs Lockley says she is called upon to care for more poorly or injured hedgehogs. In the past 12 months, she has cared for 487 hedgehogs at her home in Leveson Avenue, compared to 400 in 2011.

She advised people who see a hedgehog out in the daytime to pick it up, put a blanket over it and into a high-sided box before taking it to a sanctuary for help.

January 17, Cannock Chase Council's cabinet member for town centre regeneration was questioned about the proposed Beecroft Road development.

She acknowledged this was the largest area of land owned by the council in the town centre, but was unable to answer any questions on the cost of the market testing exercise undertaken by the council, whether any retailers had shown any interest or when further information about the council's intentions for the site might be available.

Given her complete lack of knowledge about the plans, I wonder whether the council leader still has confidence in his cabinet member's ability his cabinet member's ability to fulfil her role?

I for one found the whole interview rather frighten-ing; it certainly did not leave me confident that the regening; it certainly did not leave me confident that the regen-eration of our town centres is in safe hands. JODIE JONES Councillor Cannock Chase District

Praise as volunteers battle the elements

WRVS volunteers have been battling through the snow and ice to continue to deliver services to older people and check that they are safe, warm and well. Fear of slipping on icy paths and treacherous road conditions mean that older people often cannot get out and about and without our volunteers they may not see anyone else for days at a time.

I'd like to say a massive thank you to our volunteers across the region who have continued to deliver vital services like Meals on Wheels to the housebound, despite the bad weather. Many volunteers have gone beyond the call of duty and have carried on when other services have stopped. Thank you and keep up the good work!

Players looking for lottery alternative

SINCE Camelot announced the minimum cost of a lottery ticket is to increase from £1 to £2 this autumn it seems a lot of people are threatening to boycott this in favour of premium bonds or the Irish Lottery.

premium bonds or the Irish Lottery.

For those who haven't yet got any premium bonds the minimum cost is £100 (£50 for a monthly direct debit) so perhaps this is a good time for National Savings & Investments to review their rules and reduce the minimum spend of £100 to a more family friendly figure of £10.

As for the Irish lottery I would like to see it available in other outlets instead of just betting shops but I guess Camelot wouldn't agree as it may prove to be more popular. PAUL KMIOLEK Hednesford

Delight as school is named top in county

AN independent school in Cannock has been named as the top performing school in the whole of the county.

Chase Grammar School - formerly Chase Academy – was also named 43rd best school of all types nationally, according to league tables released last according to league tables released last week.

All of its pupils achieved at least five A*-C grades at GCSE or equivalent including English and maths and it was ranked top within the local education authority for its A-level points score per candidate.

Deputy headmistress Jackie Williams said: "Over a number of years our academic results have been excellent and we are always very proud of our students.

Special

"This year's results are even more impressive and we are delighted that they reflect our successes as a school. There is still a very special atmosphere that pervades our school."

The tables showed that schools in Staffordshire were bucking the national trend with a rise in pupils getting top grades in core subjects.

The news comes as it was revealed one-in-four schools and colleges nationally are failing to produce any students with grades high enough to help them get a leading university place.

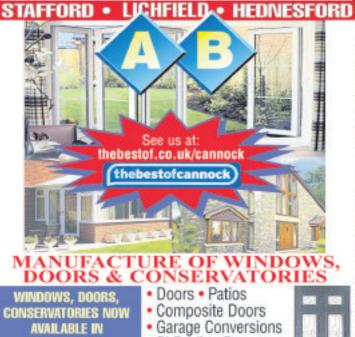

Nationally 195 schools in England, collectively teaching around 167,000 children, fell below the Government's new floor target for secondaries, the latest figures showed.

Front, Katie Wilson and Felicia Robertson celebrate with fellow Chase Grammar School pupils Baljinder Maltoo, Oliver Bowen and Ben Soen

That meant that less than 40 per cent of their pupils gained at least five GCSEs at grade C or higher, including English and maths, and and students did not make good enough progress in these two core suljects.

However, GCSE results for Staffordshire pupils rose for the fifth year in a row with 58.4 per cent gaining five or more A* to C grades including English and maths, an increase of 1.9 per cent nationally. This is the first time Staffordshire results have exceeded the national average since to control of the national average since to control of the national average since to control of the national services and the stafford shire pupils rose for the fifth year in a row with 58.4 per cent gaining five or more A* to C grades including English and maths, an increase of 1.9 per cent.

MEMORY LANE

Thomas Graham

The plaque at the E&S

Thomas Graham, whose plaque is outside the Express & Star's head office in Queen Street, Wolverhampton, was born in Dunfermline in 1841. After moving to Wolverhampton he ran a meat curing business, and became a prominent councillor and magistrate before forming the newspaper, which is still owned by the Graham family today.

Sir Henry Newbolt

The Newbolt plaque

Sir Henry Newbolt

Sir Henry Newbolt, honoured with a plaque on the side of Barclay's Bank, Lichfield Street, Bilston, was a poet best remembered for his 1892 work Vitai Lampada, in which a future soldier learns about the selfless commitment to duty while playing cricket at school. He was the son of the vicar of St Mary's Church, the Rev Henry Francis Newbolt, and his second wife Emily.

Sir Rowland Hill

Rowland Hill's plaque

Sir Rowland Hill

Sir Rowland Hill is honoured with a plaque in Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton. Born in Kidderminster, he moved to Wolverhampton as a child. He campaigned for a comprehensive reform of the postal system, based on the concept of penny postage and prepayment and is regarded as the creator of the modern postal service.

Benjamin Mander

The Mander plaque

Benjamin Mande

Benjamin Mander, who was born in 1752 and died in 1819, founded a japanning and varnish manufacturing company with his brother John in 1773. The business became one of the leading varnish manufacturers. The company later built the Mander Centre, where his plaque is mounted and the family name is now inextricably linked to the city of Wolverhampton.

Button Gwinnett

Button Gwinnett lived in Wolverhampton and married his wife Ann at St Peter's Church in the city in 1757. He later moved to America where he became involved in politics, and was one of the signatories of the US Declaration of Independence. His plaque can be seen in Exchange Street, Wolverhampton.

lot on his plate at the moment. Or more precisely, that should be plates.

As chairman of Wolverhampton Civic Society, he is the ultimate custodian of the 90 blue plaques which adorn various parts of the city, but his work is far from complete.

"At the moment we have got around At the moment we have got around half a dozen plaques waiting to go up, one of them will be for the Rotary Club of Wolverhampton, that's something in progress, which we are hoping to put up outside the Britannia Hotel."

It seems that while there is a question about the future of the original

by Mark Andrews
blue-plaque scheme in London, Wolverhampton's version of the project, launched by the society's Rudi Herbert in 1983, is in rude health.
Not only are there plenty of sponsors willing to stump up the £500 cost of having a plaque installed, the society has also secured funding for a mobile phone app, which will allow people to access detailed information about the plaques' subjects as they walk around the town.
"There are always quite a few calls for people to be honoured," says Mr Rana. "The sponsorship usually comes from the families or companies concerned." There are now around 90

blue plaques dotted around Wolverhampton which, outside Birmingham, is by far the most popular such scheme around the West Midlands.

"I think the people of Wolverhampton are very proud of their city," says Mr Rana. "It had many famous factories like Sunbeam, and people want to celebrate it.

Express & Star founder Thomas Graham was the first man to be honoured in Wolverhampton, with his plaque on display outside the newspaper's offices in Queen Street. Other luminaries include industrialist Benjamin Mander, and Button Gwinnett who was one of the signatories on the US Declaration of Independence.

Queen Victoria

The visit plaque

Queen Victoria's visit to Wolverhampton is remembered with this plaque on the side of the HSBC bank in Queen Square. The Queen came to the town in 1866 to unveil a statue built in memory of her husband Prince Albert. The landmark statue of Prince Albert on horse-back can still be seen in Queen Square in the city

Flood warnings follow thaw and heavy rain

A thaw and torrential rain led to covered flood plains due to the high levels of the River Penk in Penkridge

WATER covered flood plains around the River Penk in Penkridge as heavy rains followed the previous week's cold snap. After heavy snowfall had caused disruptions, a rapid thaw and torrential downpours followed, leading to 29 flood warnings being put in place across the Midlands.

The downpours caused chaos on roads in Staffordshire on Sunday, with a woman being rescued from her car when it became stranded in water. Firefighters worked through the night to pump water away from the busy A34 in Meaford, which was heavily flooded. The woman managed to scramble to safety after her vehicle got stuck.

Firefighters had to pump water from the road into a nearby culvert. Bob Dagless, group manager at Staffordshire Fire Service, said two high-volume pumping units were used to help tackle the water, which was up to 4ft deep in some places.

Chase Sailing Club and former Burntwood GP has died at the age of 89.

Dr John Wigmore, who died on January 15, helped set up the sailing club in 1955 and went on to become its president for 23 years.

Paying tribute, club committee member Roger Round said: "I could never beat John out on the water. He was quite competitive.

"I remember one day there were two chaps out on the water and they got hit on the head by the boom of the boat. rooms and stitched them up then and Dr Wigmore, who was president of the club from 1987 to 2010, was born in Darlington, County Durham.

Simon says weight loss is a Turn for the better

Simon Turnbull before he lost 10st in weight

A SUPER slimmer shed 10 stones in 12 months after being 'scared' into losing weight following the death of weight following the death of his mother.

When Simon Turnbull lost his mother to a heart attack following a battle with obesity, he knew it was time to shed the pounds himself and get fit. The 44-year-old from Walsall joined a slimming class in Cannock and now weighs around 15 stones. He has since helped scores of people with their own weight struggles after becoming a consultant. Mr Turnbull, of Suffolk Grove, Aldridge, said: "I've always been big. Even in school my nickname in the football team was 'tank'.

"I was morbidly obese. My mum was overweight and she had a massive heart attack. I was scared I would end up the same way so I knew I had to lose weight.

Active

"I followed a healthy, balanced diet. I wasn't denying myself anything. I was eating in moderation.

"I went to the gym three or four times a week and I still keep active by walking the dog and playing golf." He said losing weight had brought many benefits and encouraged him to become a consultant for Slimming World. He now runs classes in Cannock on Wednesdays and Aldridge on Thurs-days.

Hotline for NHS to be launched

A NEW NHS telephone

A NEW NHS telephone service is to launch in Cannock and Rugeley, giving residents quick access to urgent medical advice.

Health bosses hope the free 111 number will be up and running from March 12.

The service will be staffed by fully-trained advisers supported by nurses. They will ask questions to assess symptoms before offering healthcare advice or referals to local services and will rals to local services and will also be able to dispatch ambulances.

Piloted

It is predicted that the service, which has been piloted in other areas, will be available nationwide by June.

Residents can find out

Development work starts with 68 jobs

WORK has begun on 34 new homes near Cannock train station. The new homes, being built by Barratt West Midlands, will transform a former car sales garage and show room in Girton Road.

The development of 13 two-bed homes and 18 three-bedroom properties will be called Keepers Chase. Bosses say it will bring 68 new jobs into the area and a new footpath will be built linking the homes to the train station. Approval was granted by Cannock Chase Council planners subject to a Section 106 agreement being signed over community improvements.

Tale from the Baa-d

Michael Fricker, from Cannock, with a copy of his newly-published book Programmed Sheep

A ROYAL Mail delivery worker has published a new book with one simple message – being a sheep is baad.
Father-of-one Michael Fricker, of Pye Green Road, Cannock, has released his first title Programmed Sheep, a tongue-in-cheek look at modern day society.
It is an adult comedy book, encouraging free-thinking as opposed to simply following the herd.
After being put on sale via Amazon, it had sold out within three days.

After being put on sale via Anrazon, it has some three days.
Mr Fricker, aged 45, who works at the Royal Mail depot in Wolverhampton, said: "The book originally was my thoughts when I was trying to give myself some 'self therapy' when I was stressed. I found it five years later and after I read it I thought it was pretty funny. I showed it to a friend and he agreed.

"It's a bit anti-establishment, but it's done in a funny way."

way."

He has been writing plays, poems and stories for many years, but this is the first time he has ever had work published. While his daughter Stacey, aged 24, took the images.

Rural pledge as job numbers rise

THE number of people employed in rural areas in Staffordshire has risen by a fifth, new figures show - compared to a nine per cent fall in urban areas.

Employment in the county's countryside is up by more than 21 per cent between 2003 and 2011.

John Hylton's vocal tribute to his hero was as near as one can get to the legend himself. Cheers and applause from the audience acknowledged their appreciation as fans sang along to Sweet Caroline, Love On The Rocks and Beautiful Noise to name just a few. The Ladykillers, Wolverhampton Grand FORMER Father Ted co-writer Graham Linehan has given FORMER Father Ted co-writer Graham Linehan has given a classic vintage British movie a witty revamp with lots of added slapstick in this enjoyable 1950s-set romp. Screenwriter William Rose's original black comedy, about a criminal gang posing as a string ensemble to fool their elderly landlady, is given a broad farce treatment aiming for big laughs, which it achieves. An excellent cast and an ingenious set ensure a satisfying production.

Paul Bown is a treat as the slightly deranged would-be criminal mastermind whilst Michelle Dotrice is his delightful nemesis as the semi-senile senior with a stubborn streak. The rest of the gang are colourful characters too, William Troughton as a pill-popping young villain, Cliff Parisi as a word-manging Romanian cut-throat, Clive Mantle as a nervous comman with transvestite tendencies and Chris McCalphy as a punch-drunk former boxer with a soft streak.

and Units Michael Taylor's award-nominated set, a lopsided and subsided skew-whiff Victorian house where chairs go skittering across floors because of the earthquakelike vibrations of passing trains. At one point the outer walls become like a Scalextric set as model cars represent a cash van robbery and police chase.

This is an exuberant, audience-pleasing play and it continues its run at the Grand until Saturday.

The Rocky Horror Show,
New Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham
AS IT celebrates its 40th year of cult status, Richard O'Brien's The Rocky Horror Show remains the sexiest stage musical on the planet. For the uninitiated, it is a hilarious celebration of the B-movie, following engaged couple Brad and Janet as they take shelter at the home of mad transvestite scientist Frank-N-Furter, who has been building the perfect muscle man.

The latest production will not have disappointed die-hard fans who, as always came dressed, in their wigs and suspenders and rocked along to the Time Warp.
Of particular note were Roxanne Pallet (Emmerdale), playing Janet, Ben Forster (Jesus Christ Superstar), as Brad, and Philip Franks narrating, Rhydian (X Factor / We Will Rock You) earned big laughs.
Fans of the film, the Rocky Horror Picture Show, may have found Oliver Thornton's Frank-N-Furter accent to be a little off but all was forgiven the moment he unveiled his hallmark corset-suspender combo.

As is traditional, the audience interjected with regular vulgar outbursts (leave the kids at home for this one). At times it left me, as a first-timer, feeling on the outside of an in-joke but for the most part these interruptions only added to the show's charm.
Rocky Horror continues at the Alex until Saturday.

The meeting centre will be used as the main reception and waiting area.

The 30,000-plot site, which will have one of the largest Muslim designated sections in the region, will also have a three-arm roundabout built by the entrance. Work on that is expected to start soon.

Recent snowfall has hampered progress by a week, but a timetable on eight months of roadworks to accommodate the scheme is now being finalised.

Kamran Saleem, sales and administration manager for the site said: "The roadworks are down to the council and they are still having to work out all the contractors and when they do the work will begin. But we have started work just by the road and on

Once roadworks begin, motorists will face lane closures and a reduction in the speed limit from 60mph to 30mph along the road from its junction with Barracks Lane up to the busy island at Muckley Corner.

But bosses said while they understood it would cause disruption, they believed it would make the road safer in the long term.

The site was bought in 2004 for £680,000 by Springhill Cemetery Group and construction will cost up to £4 million.

More than 4,000 plots have already been snapped up at the site, which is due to open around June. Ten jobs will be created.

COMEDIAN and activist Mark

COMEDIAN and activist Mark Thomas has exposed arms dealers and abuses of civil liber-ties and is as handy with a mega-phone as a microphone – holding the world record for the most individual protests held in a day. In recent years he has been rambling along the Israeli border and travelled around Britain col-lecting clauses for his Manifasto.

But the theme of his latest tour is a more personal affair, the story of Mark's father, a builder with a love of opera. It tells of the comedian's attempt to put an opera on at the Bournemouth bungalow home of his father, who has a degenerative disease.

It is about love, death, fathers and sons, and the search for peace... with quite a few gags thrown in.

The Bravo Figaro tour brings him to Stourbridge Town Hall on Friday, February 15.

CHOICE

Britain's Brightest BBC1, 7pm

Given his offbeat turns on Mock the Week, it's little wonder Milton Jones' star has been on the rise for some years now. This week he'll be helping to raise a few laughs on Clare Balding's puzzle-themed show, and with next week's final being the main focus for the final six contestants, it'll be intriguing to see who has the right stuff to make it through to the series end. Aside from Mr Jones, other challenges involve those nutty boys/men Madness, and a German bottle band. As ever the self-confessed brainboxes aim to get that one step closer to claiming the prize of £50,000.

Pick of the Week

Clunes is in the saddle for his new adventure

artin Clunes couldn't be less like Gary, his Men Behaving Badly character, if he tried.

Martin is besotted by his furry, four-legged friends. In fact, when he isn't making Doc Martin or some other ITV drama, he can be found surrounded by them, either at home or while making a documentary.

Over the past few years he's featured in various programmes about dogs and lemurs – just last week he narrated another about canines.

Now he's back with a rather more ersonal project.

This second string to his media career has come as a surprise, but he loves every minute of it: "It was never part of the plan, but I'd really miss presenting and the opportunities it's given me. It would because this might spoil my chances of another acting job; because I might miss out on one of the biggest experiences of my life."

Two years ago, Martin adopted a couple of young Cydesdale draught horses – called Bruce and Ronnie – and they're now at an age where they're getting a tittle bored with just rotting around an empty field, their trotting around an empty field, their besotted 'father' describes them as "lovable but uncontrollable teenagers."

To give the duo some focus,
Martin has brought in Robert Sampson, an equine expert who will turn 'the boys' into useful working horses – he'll coach Martin how to drive them properly too.

"If you'd said 10 years ago that I would be driving a seven and a half ton truck with my own two young Clydesdales and taking them to hoof camp, I'd have laughed in your face," claims Martin. "But it is a reality and it's very exciting." it's very exciting."

Much of the programme is dedicated to following the progress of all three novices, but there's also globe, including by the Amish and in stark contrast – Budweiser in America. However, it's a trip to an Italian vineyard that proves most eye-opening.

"A day working in that Italian vineyard is enough for me to think that having working horses on my farm can only be a good thing," laughs Martin, as he watches the animals driving carts while fertilising the land at the same time.

Then it's back to Blighty to see how Ronnie and Bruce are getting along – and the answer is very well in fact, Martinis gentle, quiet approach to life seems to suit working with the duo rather well.

working with the duo ratner weil.
"I found this new speed quite shocking to begin with, very slow," he admits. "But I have a six month ban on my driving licence, so this speed could be my future – staring at my horse's bums as they plod me around the countryside.

"It's quite a nice way to go. Three cheers I say."

Dancing on the Edge

BBC2, 9pm
If there was ever any doubt that writer-director
Stephen Poliakoff's name carries a lot of clout, just look at the cast list for his new drama, which stars veryone from Chiwetel Eijofor and Matthey Goode to John Goodman and Jacqueline Bisset, via Jane Asher and new Doctor Who assistant Jenna Louise Coleman. Perhaps the impressive cast were also attracted by the plot, which follows a black jazz band in 1930s London, Led by Louis black jazz band in 1930s Condon. Led by Louis Lester (Ejiofor), the group find a champion in music ournalist Stanley (Matthew Goode), and some unlikely fans among the upper class. But even with wealthy patrons on their side, they still have to deal with the racial inequalities and shifting moral values

Richard III: The King in the Car Park

Channel 4, 9pm It's amazing what you can find in car parks these days; abandoned shopping trolleys, cigarette ends, the skeleton of one history's most infamous monarchs... This documentary looks at the search for the final resting place of Richard III, who was killed at the Battle of Bosworth Field in 1485. His body was buried in Greyfriar's Church in Leicester, but in the centuries that followed, the building was demolished and its exact location was lost to history. But all that changed in 2012 when archaeologists finally worked out that Greyfriar's stood on what is now a council car park. Here, we follow the scientists who are trying to establish if the male skeleton found at the site really is Richard III.

TUESDAY Brain Hospital: Saving Lives

Channel 5, 10pm
As we return to Liverpool's Walton Centre, this inspiring series introduces Martin and Marc who are undergoing brain treatment.

Marc suffers from a chronic tremor which became worse during his teens. Surgeons hope that a 'deep brain stimulation' operation will help him control his condition. The engineer has already given up his job and lost the ability to do everyday tasks so this treatment is crucial Martin a tasks, so this treatment is crucial. Matrun, a university dean and father of three in his fifties who has been diagnosed with cancer is equally optimistic. This operation will hopefully remove the malignant brain tumours, which if left untreated will only spread throughout his

THURSDAY

How to Build a Bionic Man Channel 4, 9pm
The medical experts featured in this documentary are using £1million-worth of cutting-edge artificial limbs and organs in an attempt to create a bionic man that will then be displayed at London's Science Museum. This summer's Paralympic Games demonstrated how far modern technology has come in its ability to replace body parts and improve abilities, but presenter and psychologist Improve admittes, but presenter and psychologist Bertolt Meyer – who has a bionic hand – wants to find out how such technological developments may impact on the human race in the future. Whatever conclusions he draws will be fascinating but not as intriguing as seeing how the bionic man at the centre of it all turns out.

FRIDAY

It's Friday night, which only means one thing on Channel 5 – a good dose of heavyweight trucking that frankly makes us thankful for our safe-ashouses desk jobs. And for Dave it's not just the conditions through which he drives that are icy. In Prudhoe, he's having trouble making friends with Pruonce, nes naving rouble making friends with his new colleagues, and when his brakes freeze, he's given little help by his fellow drivers. Things are going a little better for Lisa, though, when she's given the responsibility of driving half of the biggest load of the season so far. Meanwhile Alex Debogorski is given an 800-mile three-day trip to vital food supplies to a remote outpost in

Suction offers another solution

A CUTTING-EDGE development to help resolve the stability problems faced by thousands of denture wearers is now available. Denturist Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng) says the invention has the potential to improve the life quality of those experiencing long-term problems with ill-fitting teeth. The Ultra Suction teeth are held in place by tiny valve-operated suction devices built into the dentures.

One of the most advanced restorative options for denture wearers is availabe in Wolverhampton and Dudley. An implant system called All on 4 offers a permanently retained full arch of teeth in a day.

☐ Call us for more details.

Finding a traditional answer

The work of the Denture Clinic has found satisfied customers from as far as Spain, the Isle of Skye, Anglesey and the south coast of England. Its handcrafted dentures, made in laboratories on the premises, are known for their natural look, says clinic principal Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng). "I remain passionate about resolving problems for denture wearers and for many, quality, traditional dentures can bring about hugely effective results. We always aim to exceed expectations and strive for best clinical outcomes.

The retired general nurse, midwife and public health worker from the Midlands, continues: "It's one of the things I want to do again, having been involved in a Finding the Voice course.

"It's such a joyous pastime and what's more, it gives me pleasure while hopefully putting something back into life for others." It is hard to imagine Ann shying away from anything a consummate, articulate professional, who embraces life and opportunity with an infectious enthusiasm.

But trouble with her teeth began to erode her positive approach and she admits her self-image took a dive. I became too self-conscious of my teeth."

She adds: "Family get-togethers over meals became awkward for me because my teeth were not functional, but it was at my mother's 90th birthday party it really came home to me. 'What's the matter with your teeth?

"She said 'they're all misshapen'. It was true.

"My mother said what no-one else would say. It's true also, teeth can be life-damaging." Ann, who once worked in Australia before meeting her husband and returning to the UK, had suffered periodontal (gum) disease of her top crown.

Some teeth had become loose and twisted while other, more mobile teeth, had to be extracted. Her sister was a patient with Wolverhampton implantologist Jonathon Pugh BDS MSc, principal dentist at Parkdale Dental Clinic on Tettenall Road, and she persuaded her to have a consultation with him.

Mr Pugh recalls: "Sadly, by this time,

Dig in the compost to beef up your soil

as Leving-ton Organic Blend, left, will worker wonders with wet. while, right, lime wil sweeten

WITH winter rains well above average it's not surprising to find reservoirs are at their highest levels for many a long

In England and Wales overall reservoir stocks were at their second highest voir stocks were at their second highest level on record – just exceeded by 2000. That means soils really are fully soaked and many of us will have to improve drainage if we are to obtain a good crop of flowers, fruit and vegetables in 2013.

The bottom line is to garden successfully, we will need to improve all soils so they can cope they can cope.

they can cope.

Beefing up the organic matter in all soils will help in all seasons. It will improve drainage in autumn and winter and increase water-holding capacity in summer.

If your garden compost heap has produced durk rish carmble material.

If your garden compost heap has produced dark, rich, crumbly material then use that – it's free.

But if the material is wet and slimy give it a miss and buy some material that will improve the drainage rather than making it worse.

Several bags of Levington Organic Blend Soil Conditioner will work wonders on wet, clay soils as the coarse, fibrous material will open up pockets of air within the clods and provide drainage channels for any below), alkaline (numbers above 7) or nearly neutral (7). Most vegetables will thrive on a slightly acid soil in the numerical range of 6 to 7 and if your test provides an acid indicator below 6 you should dress the soil with Miracle-Gro Lime.

pockets of air within the clods and provide drainage channels for any further rain.

On a light, sandy soil it will hold extra rain and any nutrients you apply. There is no limit to the amount of soil conditioner your plot will appreciate. Dig some in during winter and improve the surface again just before you sow seeds or plant out seedlings. It will do more than improve the soil's texture, drainage and waterholding capacity. It will provide home for millions more beneficial microorganisms and help increase the availability of nutrients. Not that feeding can be ignored. For all your plants to produce maximum growth and flower to their full potential they also need to draw on plant nutrients as they need traw on piant nutrients as they need them.

The Miracle-Gro Company has launched for 2013 a new range of fertilisers that will provide nutrients for all sorts of conditions and all sorts of gardeners. Many of them are organic such as Miracle-Gro Bone Meal, Chicken Manure and Fish, Blood and Bone. Others supply just one element of the nutrient balance such as Miracle-Gro Superphosphate (phosphates), Sulphate of Ammonia (nitrogen) and Sulphate of Potash (potassium). These allow gardeners to balance the nutrient levels in their soil ipotassium). These allow gardeners to balance the nutrient levels in their soil to suit different types of crops.

For example green leafy vegetables such as cabbages and other brassicas need plenty of nitrogen and a dressing of Miracle-Gro Sulphate of Ammonia will encourage fast strong growth, whereas superphosphate promotes strong and healthy rooting and is an ideal supplement where you are growing carrots and parsnips.

Six-bedroom home is in a private cul-de-sac

Offers in the region of £399,950 are being invited for Oak-

A superb six-bedroom detached family house in a private cul-desac in Stafford with gated entrance is on the market based on offers in the region of £399,950.

The property in Oakbrook Close has a reception hall, cloakroom with WC, lounge, sitting room, dining room and kitchen with built-in ampliances, utility room, six double built-in appliances, utility room, six double bedrooms all with built-in wardrobes, three bedrooms all with built-in wardrobes, three bathrooms and double garage.

The cloakroom has a WC and pedestal wash hand basin, the lounge has a fireplace with coal-effect living flame gas fire and double doors to the sitting room which has double doors to the rear patio and gardens.

The dining area has double doors to the patio while the kitchen area has granite base units, six ring gas hob with stainless steel canopy above, stainless steel double oven, integral dishwasher and fridge freezer and wall cupboards.

and wall cupboards.

A utility room has a stainless steel sink with mixer tap and cupboards under, plumbing for washing machine and wall cupboards.

Bedroom one has a range of built-in wardrobes, Juliet balcony, dressing area and en-suite with panelled bath, separate shower cubicle, pedestal wash hand basin and WC.

There are three more bedrooms and a bath-

Don't get in a twist!

Corkscrew hazel looks striking in the winter

TIS curiously twisted branches look particularly striking against a backdrop of a clear blue sky and it provides a conspicuous, if a little spooky, edge to the winter scene. While many hazels are too big to grow in the average garden, the corkscrew hazel is slow-growing, so will take years to reach its eventual height of 5m.

In February the stems will be further decorated by the 5cm (2in) long pale yellow hazel catkins. It is ideal underlanted with early flowering bulks and marble leaved planted with early flowering bulbs and marble-leaved arums and will grow in sunny or semi-shaded sites in fertile, well-drained soil. Remove suckers and any unwanted stems in the winter.

Dishing up a pungent treat with little effort

For best results buy bulbs from a supplier and not the supermarket

WE have garlic in so many dishes these days that it's not difficult to justify the little time and effort it takes to grow your own.

Buy bulbs that are certified virus-free from seed merchants rather than planting one you've bought from a supermarket because the results may be disappointing if you cut corners.

Break up the bulb and plant the cloves in prepared, well-drained ground in a sunny spot, placing them 15cm apart and pointed end up, so the tip is just covered with soil.

soil.

Cover them with cloches in frosty weather. Each one will produce a whole bulb which should store until the following spring.

If you live in a cold area, speed up the process by planting the cloves in divided seed trays in multi-purpose compost, water in well and place them in a cold frame or unheated greenhouse.

They should be ready for planting out in March or April. In dry spells, keep garlic well watered or you may find the resulting bulbs don't keep for very long.

IF YOU want to know how important the new Octavia is to Skoda's continuing growth you needed to see the small army of people spending a month in the Portuguese sun.

They were everywhere, helping guide 1,000 motoring writers from around the world to the dining room at the hotel, the conference room, the breakfast room . . . the check-in desk at the airport and the orange juice and cakes at the coffee stop on the test route.

Some of Skoda's support drivers had spent three days fersions of the orange the company of the conference of the Stephen shows meant the company of the support drivers had spent three days fersions of the of the Stephen shows meant the company of the support drivers had spent three days fersions of the orange of the support drivers had spent three days fersions of the orange of the support drivers had spent three days fersions of the orange of the support drivers had spent three days fersions of the orange of the orang

Some of Skoda's support drivers had spent three days ferrying a fleet of big Superb saloons several thousand kilometres from their native Czech Republic to the guaranteed frost-free climes of southern Portugal, to chauffeur writers from airport to hotel for their one-night stays.

Then you discover that 44 in every Skodas built are Octavias and more than 3.7 million have been sold since the first ones arrived in 1996.

Skoda's ambitious plans for the years ahead would derail if Octavia sales softened. So it's no surprise that Octavia mk III, which reaches the UK on March 16, is no mould breaker. Its simply bigger, bolder and better than before.

The new Octavia is 90mm (3.5in) longer than before but, crucially the distance between front and rear wheels is stretched 108mm (4.2in), with the extra space given to rear seat legroom and an ever bigger boot. The old Octavia is a hit in China, where they like room in the rear. They're going to love the new one, as are UK caxi firms and families with hit in China, where they like room in the rear. They're going to love the new one, as are Uft cai firms and families with teenage children and masses of luggage.

Skoda long ago stopped fighting for the cheaper end of the car market, concentrating instead on value and must have decided there's a big enough jump in quality and design to stand a significant price rise.

That means the new range starts at £15,990 for a 1.2-litre petrol model, a stiff £2,605 rise on before. The car on test, a 1.6 diesel in mid-level SE trim and a likely big seller, has risen £1,740 to £19,240, with the new range-topping 2.0 diesel automatic up a more modest £785 to £23,240.

Skoda says the entry-level new car has £3,500 of extra equipment as standard, including alloy wheels, DAB radio, extra airbags, remote central locking, touchscreen for the sound system and an eco-boosting stop/start system.

CHRONICLE MOTORING

Chevrolet Aveo is at ease in the city and on motorways

The five-door Chevrolet Aveo is a diminutive city car but do not let that badge deceive you because this vehicle is at ease on the motor-way, the open roads, countryside as well as in and around the city.

and around the city.

Chevrolet with the Aveo have done like a good many other manufacturers have done and created a 5-seater in a small foot print and in a small package that will be easy to fit in your garage, on your drive or in a restricted parking space. It is a 5-door hatchback with ample room for 5 occupants, it is extremely stylish, and the front with its twin grille almost seems to smile with a welcome home to you.

Chevrolet like a good many other manufacturers are adopting a corporate look at the front with the huge, bold Chevrolet badge and these twin grilles mean you know that this vehicle belongs to a pedigree company of some years standing.

standing.

standing.

The new Aveo has a completely redesigned exterior and cabin, it also has a newly developed chassis and a body structure and Chevrolet have gone down the route of trying to make their engines far more fuel efficient with reduced emissions levels, and they have succeeded.

Diminutive

They have produced an everyday car, well engineered which is an enjoyable vehicle to both own and also to drive. The engine options available on the Aveo are 2 petrols, a 1.4-litre, producing 100 bhp and a more diminutive 1.2-litre producing 86 bhp.

My particular test vehicle was equipped with a 1.3-litre dissel engine a very small engine but with common rail fuel.

My particular test vehicle was equipped with a 1.3-litre diesel engine, a very small engine but with common rail fuel injection, stop/start technology, with a variable geometry turbo-charger meant, it had a power output of 95 bhp and this was an excellent combination to the vehicle.

The performance was more than adequate for my needs and fitted perfectly in to the size scale and type of the vehicle. It had extremely low emissions at 95 gms for the little 1.3-litre Eco option meaning seriously cheap in fact free road fund licence at the moment.

The fuel consumption figures quoted by Chevrolet are quite outlandish, suffice to say that during my week in company with the vehicle in a variety of driving styles and situations, but primarily in and around town and a lot of stop/start motoring, I managed to achieve 52 mpg, which is a long way short of the claimed 78.4 combined cycle, but for a vehicle of this size and performance, I was quite pleased at 52 mpg.

at 52 mpg.

An option which will suit a lot of drivers is that there is a An option which will suit a lot of drivers is that there is a 6-speed automatic transmission unit available with the 1.4 litre petrol engined models, this could well be the factor which tips you over the balance of looking at this derivative, an automatic gearbox in a nice small compact car, add in to the equation ease of access into all the seats and a not too high boot loading aperture and further ownership boxes are ticked.

Connect

The particular derivative that I tested was an LT, there are 3 trim levels available, badged as LS, LT, and LTZ, mine fitted in to the middle category, but even that is seriously well equipped with nice 15° alloy wheels, a blue tooth phone compatibility system which regrettably no matter how I tried couldn't get it to connect to my HTC phone.

It had the benefit of hill start assist, cruise control, and electric windows, driver's seat multi-adjustable, I liked the factor that the exterior mirrors were heated so on the cold frosty mornings that we had whilst I tested the car this feature was an absolute bonus. The vehicle and all the range have a 5° NCap safety rating which is more peace of mind. The performance aspect was more than acceptable, have a 5° NCap safety rating which is more peace of mind. The performance aspect was more than acceptable, Chevrolet suggest a top speed of 108 mph and a 0-60 gallop could be achieved in marginally over 11 seconds and of course the important feature is the CO at a mere 95.

My particular derivative was priced at £12,795 on the road and I really do believe that this is another of the small city cars that if you were on a tight budget it is certainly worth a look especially as the range start at £9,995 and all benefit from a 5-year warranty.

Chevrolet's Aveo is a good looking all-rounder with plenty of bonus points

Van-tastic milestone for family-run firm

The family-run Astro Van Centre, in Chase Road, Brownhills, which is celebrating its 20th year in business COMMERCIAL vehicle dealership in Brownhills is celebrating its 20th year in business – and it is not hard to see why it has stood the test of time.

Astro Van Centre, on Chase Road, has weathered the tough economic climate by offering a balance of low prices and high standards.

And proprietor Stuart Tromans says the third-generation family business also has its customers to thank for the economic lower its.

company's longevity. He said: "The fact we are still here in this difficult time is thanks to our customers and our ability to adapt to the modern marketplace.

"We are still an independent, family-owned business and we are now the longest-established commercial dealer in the area by far. We aim to provide main dealer product at vastly reduced prices."

The business supplies vans and other light commercial vehicles to fleets, sole traders and every size of business in between.

Experience

It specialises in late-year, low mileage vans, including the Peugeot Bipper, the Renault Kangoo and the Citroen Dispatch, to name but a few. Mr Tromans, who has more than 30 years' experiences in the motor trade, with both independent and main deal-erships, said: "Mostly our stock is still under manufacturer's warranty, and we provide excellent after-sales, servicing and value for money."

Mr Tromans also understands that Mr I romans asso understands that his customers are feeling the pinch in today's financial uncertainty. He said: "We are finance specialists who, with the aid of our finance partners, can tailor a package to suit our customers' needs. We can even help if theorem in the partners in the partners of the others sometimes cannot and we will always do our best."

always do our best."

The company has established links with a major lease company that now supplies most of its vehicles, which are prepared to main dealer standard.

"This gives the company access to more than 2,000 vehicles and staff can arrange their transportation and financing directly to the customer for their convenience

However, if you have been building up gradually this will not be a problem.

If it becomes too tough, you can walk the rest of the way rather than give up.

The important thing is to finish each session so that on the race day you can go the distance and complete the five-mile course.

For those beginners who have already entered the run, we hope that you are finding the training schedule useful.

Goal hero Kelly back to assist manager

DAVID KELLY has returned to Walsall after he was appointed new assistant manager by the Saddlers. The 47-year-old replaces Richard O'Kelly, who joined Bristol City last week, until the end of the season.

Boss Dean Smith wanted a swift appointment and has landed ex-Saddlers striker Kelly, who turned professional with the club in 1983 and scored 80 goals in 190 games.

and scored 80 goals in 190 games.

He had been out of work since leaving Nottingham Forest as assistant manager in 2011. He had previous spells under Billy Davies at Preston and Derby.

Former Ireland international Kelly said: "I am delighted to come back to the dub to help Dean.

"The supporters here will accept you if you do your best and work hard for the badge. It is something that I'd like to think I did as a player and will be doing as assistant manager.

"I've had a good chat with Dean and it's clear that we share the same philosophies on football. I can't wait to get out onto the training field and get started."

RUSHALL OLYMPIC brushed aside holders Kidsgrove Athletic to ease into the semi-final stage of the Staffordshire Senior Cup.

Victory gave the Pics some redress for last season's narrow defeat in the final against the same side.

Grove were first to try their luck in the 11th minute as former Crewe Alexandra and Bristol Rovers midfielder Kevin Street let fly from distance in the left channel.

Two minutes later, Kyle Haynes found himself in an advanced position and robbed Athletic 'keeper Dave Dyson of the ball but could only drive into the right side-netting.

On 23 minutes, Olympic threatened as a strike from Dave Walker spun straight back to the forward, who unleashed a venomous volley from just inside the box that Dyson palmed away for a corner.

Perfect

Just after the half-hour, a mistake by Mitchell Tolley let in Kidsgrove's Shane Reaney, but he was forced out wide and shot off-target.

With the opening 45 minutes up, both Walker for Rushall and the visitors' Dean Smith were cautioned following an altercation in the Grove penalty area.

However, as the second minute of first-half injury time elapsed, the Pics picked the perfect time to surge into the lead.

The ball was delivered from the left and Michael Clarke flicked on into the path of strike-partner Wal-ker. His header rebounded off the underside of the crossbar and dropped over the goal-line.

The hosts were quickly out of the starting blocks at the start of the second half and deservedly doubled their advantage on 48 minutes when Kyle Haynes' centre was headed back across the face of goal by Clarke for Walker to score.

Kidsgrove got one back when keeper Chris Gemmell spilled a relatively simple high ball and John Johnston rifled it into the net.

With 19 minutes remaining, Jon Haynes swung in a free-kick towards the far post and Clarke steered a powerful header beyond Dyson to claim his first competitive goal in a Pics shirt.

Rushall claimed a fourth goal in the S1st minute when substitute Ahmed Obeng was brought down in the box after going on a mazy run and picked himself up to convert the penalty.

£50,000 lets club convert scheme

BIG plans for Cannock Rug-by Football Club can start after they received a £50,000 from Sport England. They were one of four clubs in the region to scoop a total of £200,000 to create better feelilities.

clubs in the region to scoop a total of £200,000 to create better facilities.

Work will start early next month on four new changing rooms, showers, a referees space and a medical room.

Club chairman David Taylor said: "We have big plans and they were all hinging on getting this money.

"It will help us develop our ladies section and they outh teams."

The other teams to benefit from £50,000 grants were Springhill Cricket Club, near Lichfield and Enville Athletics Social Club, near Stourbridge.

The Alrewas club will use cash to extend their pavilion and upgrade changing facilities with the funds from

FA Cup giant-killing inspiration for Wood

WALSALL WOOD are taking inspiration from the FA Cup giant-killings.
Wood host Hanworth Villa in the fourth round of the FA Vase on Saturday having already gone further than ever before in the competition.

They beat Wigan Robin Park 2-0 in the last round and club secretary Bill Shaw said the team will draw strength from the FA Cup shocks provided by Luton, Oldham and

He said: "Hanworth are a level higher in the pyramid and they should be favourites, but you never know what could happen in the cup competitions – look what happened at the weekend. We are playing very well at the moment – for what games we've played – and we've only lost once in the league this season.

"The league is the priority, but who doesn't want to get to Wembley?"
The winners face Rocester or Runcorn Town in the fifth round next Saturday and will bank £2,000 – on top of the £4,800 they have already won.

Meanwhile, Gornal manager Ian Rowe has challenged his players to fly out of the traps in the Vase on Saturday after their fourth-round preparations went to the dogs.

The Peacocks squad were due at Monmore Green greyhound track in Wolverhampton this evening for a team night out as part of the build-up to the rearranged clash with Wisbech at Garden Walk.

Walk.

And Rowe hopes a night on the town can help his side sniff out a place in the last 16 on Saturday and an overnight trip to Bodmin seven days later.

Rowe, whose side were due to play Alvechurch on Tuesday, said: "There will be a hit of rue in the Always because we have a bit of rust in the players because we have had a few games called off. But hopefully we can start quickly and get ourselves a place in the next round. "We did well in the FA Cup and we've had a good run in the Vase, so there is nothing to a good run in the Vase, so there is nothing to fear.

"We know Wisbech are one of the bighitters in their league and we are expecting a tough game, but there is no pressure on us.

"We've done really well to get this far but it would be great to keep it going."

Gornal's game against Wisbech has been postponed twice because of the recent cold snap. But they are hopeful of the tie finally snap. But they are hopeful of the tie finally getting the go-ahead this week, barring heavy rain in the next 48 hours.

Hayes set for action after 13 games off

BELEAGUERED Heath Hayes may have set a new – and thoroughly unwanted – record.

The Midland Alliance outfit have suffered 13 consecutive match postponements.
They are currently checking with football statisti-cians whether the unlucky number constitutes a
